The Dream Weaver

1001

You convert the world to what it believes has been lost forever. You make laughter and most importantly smile.
You are the last blossom of beauty in a world overwhelmed by temporary fads. Amidst all the flowers of the season, you reign supreme with your timeless grace. You are love up to your halo.

A smile of you brings warmth. A smile of you brings colour. A smile of you brings life.
With smile, you are really an awesome artist in alleviating the pain and the stress of the world from the nature and the society which surrounds it.
Share your smile, your love is known and from your smile it spreads across the world.
