DESIGNED FOR ANGELS

Two side-by-side close-up portraits of the woman. The left portrait shows her wearing the same large sunglasses and holding the frame with her hand. The right portrait shows her without the sunglasses, looking directly at the camera. Both images highlight the red dress and her jewelry.

The patterns, lines, shades and textures of our dress have been designed by the very masters of the hand. Some say that the craftsmen must understand the art and in fact will be surprised by it. When asked why it was, my greatest reward would be to know only the angels. Today, the pattern made for angels can now surely be given to you.
