There is a beauty in every thing we find
if all we see is a sight from the eye
without the heart and feeling

1146

Throughout a woman's life, by the clothes she wears, she shows that she is serious, as free as the wind, or just the opposite. But, the beauty of a woman is not in her face, her hair, or her clothes, but in the way she lives, the place where she is living, the things that surround her, and the way she lives. It is the feeling that she has made of her life, the passion that she has in her heart, and the love that she has for the world.
